To Whom It May Concern:

I write in support of Ebehireme "Ebe" Inegbenebor who has applied for a clerkship in your chambers.

Ms. Inegbenebor was an excellent student in my property class, earning one of the highest grades in the course. Her response to the complicated essay question on her final exam was concise, logical and well-written; it was the exact type of analysis a professor hopes to receive at the end of the semester. In addition to performing well under pressure in a timed exam, Ms. Inegbenebor was consistently prepared for class and her contributions were thoughtful and well-reasoned. I was not surprised that Ms. Inegbenebor earned an 'A' in my course and that she also excelled in legal writing and her clinical experience.

Because of her excellent performance in my course, Ms. Inegbenebor will serve as my teaching assistant in the spring of 2024. In this role, she will be responsible for running weekly office hours with first year law students and providing feedback on their written work. I can tell from her presentation and writing style that she is an organized thinker who will provide invaluable insight to first year law students.

While I did not have an opportunity to supervise Ms. Inegbenebor on lengthy written assignments, her performance in my property class demonstrates that she is a solid legal writer—she approaches legal issues with an effective mix of organization and creativity, and she is able to clearly articulate both solutions to legal problems and her reasoning. Just as importantly, Ms. Inegbenebor is a collegial and collaborative law student and it has been a pleasure to get to know her during her time at Howard. I recommend her without reservation.

Sincerely,

Re: Letter of Recommendation for Ms. Ebehireme "Ebe" Inegbenebor

Dear Judge:

It is my great pleasure to introduce and commend to you my student, Ms. Ebehireme "Ebe" Inegbenebor, who is applying to your chambers for a clerkship. As you will quickly see from her application and hopefully a personal interview, Ms. Inegbenebor is an accomplished and mature candidate, who combines outstanding academic performance in law school with exceptional analytical and writing skills. She will also bring specific and valuable experience in brief-writing and judicial decision-making to the court, drawn from her coursework, including our Civil Rights Appellate Clinic, her summer work in the appellate practice group at Paul Weiss, and her planned externship this Fall at the Justice Department.

I am very well acquainted with Ms. Inegbenebor's academic and personal strengths, having taught her as a professor and supervised her work in my capacity as Faculty Advisor to the Howard Law Journal (HLJ), our flagship student publication. Especially relevant to her potential service as your clerk, she has outstanding analytical abilities and is an exceptional writer. She received among the highest grades awarded in both my Federal Courts course and Supreme Court Jurisprudence seminar. In the seminar, the students work collaboratively as a simulated "Supreme Court" to decide three cases pending during the current term. Each student then drafts an opinion resolving the issues in the case. Ms. Inegbenebor's three opinions were outstanding. She immersed herself in the legal issues and arguments of the parties and produced three exceptionally well-written, thoughtful, and sophisticated opinions. It is an easy prediction that she will enthusiastically and skillfully embrace the issues that confront the court.

Ms. Inegbenebor will be a committed and focused clerk, who will work well with others and continue to grow and excel as a professional. She will bring much to the court and take away much professionally if given the opportunity to serve as a clerk.

Please contact me at your convenience at either 202-806-8018 or agavil@law.howard.edu if I can be of any further assistance as you make your hiring decisions.

Sincerely,

To Whom This May Concern:

I am delighted to write this letter to recommend Ebe Inegbenebor for a clerkship in your chambers. I supervised Ebe on client matters during her summer as a litigation associate at Selendy Gay Elsberg and mentored her throughout that summer. Ebe's writing skills received excellent reviews, and her legal research and creative analytical abilities made her a valuable member of case teams. In addition, Ebe is a wonderful person and the personal time I spent with her makes me confident that any team she joins, including yours, will welcome her.

Ebe was staffed on two matters that I supervised. Senior associates who supervised these matters quickly trusted Ebe to write research emails and memoranda addressing complex issues regarding e-discovery and securities arbitration. Ebe also spent a considerable amount of time researching possible solutions to a remedies issue. Ebe's work was thorough and her discussions over the law provided clarity. She was reliable, inquisitive, and enthusiastic about her work. This made her a pleasure to work with.

Ebe also worked on two appellate matters under a former partner at our firm: one amicus brief to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, and another amicus brief to the New York Court of Appeals. While I was not on that matter myself, I understand that the amicus brief to the New York Court of Appeals that our firm filed made a compelling argument that clarified opposing counsel's use of an integral case. It was Ebe who noticed the opportunity to clarify this incorrect use of the case law during her legal research and meticulous reading of the briefs.

During the summer at Selendy Gay Elsberg, the summer program leadership contracts professionals to train and develop summer associates, including a legal writing coach. After reviewing Ebe's legal memorandum about the case discussed above, the coach personally sent an email to the summer program leadership to note how impressive Ebe's writing was. She noted that it was some of the best she had ever seen from even a senior associate and was surprised to hear Ebe had only completed one year of law school.

I loved being Ebe's mentor because she is such a warm person full of integrity. She is also collaborative, enthusiastic, gentle, hard-working, and firm. We hope she returns to us and I know that she will leave a positive impact working for your chambers.

Sincerely,
